INT. CAR - DRIVING - NIGHT (June 13, 1993) - recording

SUPERIMPOSE: JUNE 13, 1993. A DELIVERY DRIVER struggles to stay focused.

THIS IS KI-WOO CHUNG (16). He records himself with a VHS Camcorder. Unlike the present generation, many people in the 1990s have had paper maps. Not modern, state-of-the-art technology. He records himself driving. Because he's mostly exhausted for trying to find an order with the same address either written down on note or forgotten it.

KI-WOO

Can this night get any worse?

Silence. Nothingness. Drives in a straight line in a road suddenly in the middle of nowhere. A deer runs by the road.

Ki-Woo accidentally crashes the deer. SCREEN STATIC. BLACK.

CUT TO:

EXT. road of nowhere - night (June 13, 1993)

Ki-Woo is out of the car with his camcorder and a pizza box placed on top of his car, panicking about running over a deer. Beat. Mark calms himself down.

EXT. road of nowhere - night (June 13, 1993) - moments LATER

KI-WOO grabs the camcorder and sees a house in the distance.
KI-WOO (O.S.) Hello?

Someone comes out of the house. Beat. The owner of the house, slowly begins to come after Ki-Woo holding a pickaxe. Ki-woo (O.S.)

Oh, shit. The owner runs fast chasing Ki-Woo, holding the camera but trips over. The camera is held by a 80-degree angle. Hearing Mark getting killed. The camera glitches. The owner tilts around the camera, not showing or revealing his face. Just showing Ki-Woo's body being dragged into the house.

ORDER

Int. JI-HO'S HOUSE - present day

JI-HO (21) watches television as he is making his list of thoughts written down in his journal due to his severe anxiety.

JI-HO'S FATHER

Ji-Ho.

Ji-HO

Hey, Dad.

JI-HO'S FATHER

I just wanted to come and say that we have therapy with Dr. Kang-soo next week.

Have you been writing down your thoughts? Beat.

Ji-HO

Yeah. But every time I try to write down my thoughts, they're stuck. They don't do anything. They just stay still, cognitively destroying my happiness.

Ji-HO'S FATHER

Okay, okay. I understand you're still anxious, but this is the kind of stuff that takes time. And believe me, with your night shifts as a delivery driver really make your anxiety worsen, but maybe you should try additional ways to help with your anxiety.

Ji-HO

I have a shift I got to get ready for tonight anyways. Int. ki-woo's CAR - DRIVING - rain - night

It's raining outside. Ki-Woo in inside his car, looks at his gas tank. It's almost out of fuel. He looks for a gas station with a couple Chinese food bags in the front seat.

Out of nowhere, Ki-woo finds a gas station.

Ext. gas station - night

Ki-woo pumps his car with gas. He looks at his wallet to see how much gas money he has to pay, not much.

Int. Ki-woo's CAR - DRIVING - night

He looks at the road, driving, feeling exhausted already. He is tired. From working night shifts and balancing it with therapy is a massive pain.
